Short Scenes from the TV Screen One day we'll make the OC!

by Matt Jasper

LI Acoustic Movement founder Deborah Lombardi gets songs placed on Animal Planet's new show "Horse Power". This is profoundly appropriate, since sometimes I like to imagine her ideal target audience: the teenage girl who likes horseback riding, writing in notebooks, and dealing with life, will love Deborah Lombardi's music. If you listen to her songs, you'll think of that grade school crush with the freckles who really liked unicorns, maybe a little too much... (Actually wasn't that Deb from Napoleon Dynamite?)
