

Indie Music Stop
"Where Your Music Matters"

<http://www.indiemusicstop.com>
January 2007

CD Review

Artist Name: Deborah Lombardi

Title: On The Fringe

Style: Singer/Songwriter

Website: Deborah Lombardi

Rating: 8.10 out of 10

By C.W. Ross

This is the debut full length release from the multi-talented artist.

Besides writing all the songs found on this CD she also handles the vocals, acoustic guitar and piano parts.

What you'll find on the eleven tracks found on this release is a mixture of Alt-Country, Pop, and Rock styles of music.

The songs alternate between guitar and piano lead music.

The one thing that's constant throughout the CD is Deborah's stellar vocals.

Her voice manages to mold perfectly around each of the musical styles that are found on this release.

The songs deal with many different subjects. They deal with everything from relationships and bad body images, to waxing about what it would be like to live a dog's life.

The most pure song is the piano ballad, "City On The Potomac." Deborah's vocals really shine along with solid piano playing. The song deals with the balance of not losing your past while moving forward with reminiscing type memories.

This is a really strong release that should satisfy all the listener's musical appetite needs.

You can buy the CD at Deborah's website.